Website “Dragonflies of Ukraine”

<http://dragonflyforall.narod.ru>

The aim of the site is to unite specialists and amateurs for the popularization of odonatological observations and investigations in Ukraine. The website provides help to amateurs and students working in different regions of Ukraine.

Fruitful contact between specialists and amateurs has helped us to identify interesting regions with high Odonate diversity, including rare species; to check identifications; and to organize expeditions and excursions in the countryside.
